

New Directions in Offender Profiling:
The Principles and Practice of Investigative Psychology
15th & 16th January, 2008

London House, Goodenough College, Mecklenburgh Square, London WC1N 2AB, UK

TUESDAY 15th January 2008

- 09.20 - 10.20 COFFEE AND REGISTRATION
- 10.20 - 10.30 Conference Opening Welcome
Professor David Canter
- 10.30 – 11.00 Synergy: The Golden Age of the BSU and the Watergate Investigation
John Mindermann, retired Supervisory Special Agent, FBI
- 11.00 - 11.30 From Criminal Narratives to Investigative Decision Support
Professor David Canter, International Centre for Investigative Psychology
- 11.30 - 12.00 TEA BREAK
- 12.00 - 12.30 Major Investigation Media Management – the role of profiling
Matt Tapp, Police Media Advisor
- 12.30 - 13.00 Linkage Analysis: M.O., Ritual and Signature
Roy Hazelwood, retired Supervisory Special Agent, FBI
- 13.00 - 14.00 LUNCHEON
- 14.00 - 14.30 Professionalising Investigators: The Implications for Offender Profilers
Dr Peter Stelfox, National Policing Improvement Agency
- 14.30 - 15.00 Psychopathy and Violent Crime: Implication for Behavioural Advice
Professor Helina Hakkanen, Finnish National Bureau of Investigation
- 15.00 - 15.30 Money, Violence and Beheadings: Understanding Kidnap for Ransom
Mark Philips, International Centre for Investigative Psychology
- 15.30 - 16.00 COFFE BREAK
- 16.00 - 16.30 Decision-Making in the Offending Process of Serial Sex Offenders
Professor Eric Beauregard, Simon Fraser University
- 16.30 – 17.00 The Contributions of Profiling to the Legal System
Jim Sturman, QC

New Directions in Offender Profiling:
The Principles and Practice of Investigative Psychology

15th & 16th January, 2008
London House, Goodenough College, London, UK

PRELIMINARY CONFERENCE PROGRAMME
SUBJECT TO CHANGE

WEDNESDAY 16th January 2008

09.30 - 10.00 Profiling Types of Violence in the Family and how this Impacts on Intervention
Professor Kevin Browne, International Centre for Investigative Psychology (ICIP)

10.00 - 10.30 Evolving Directions in the Investigation of Serious Crime
Representative from the Specialist Crime Directorate, Metropolitan Police Service

10.30 – 11.00 What a Difference a Day Makes: Scenario Planning for Understanding Offenders
Dr Stuart Kirby, Lancaster University

11.00 - 11.30 COFFEE BREAK

Special Session on Geographical Offender Profiling

11.30 - 12.00 Developments in the Applicability of Geographical Offender Profiling
Dr Donna Youngs & Professor David Canter, ICIP

12.00 - 12.30 New Directions for Geographical Offender Profiling Decision Support
Dr Donna Youngs, Laura Hammon & Professor David Canter, ICIP, and Richard Bache and Professor Fabio Crestani, University of Strathclyde

12.30 - 13.00 Perspectives on Geographical Profiling from the National Institute of Justice
Ron Wilson, National Institute of Justice, USA

13.00 - 14.00 LUNCH

14.00 -14.30 Case Studies in UK Counter Terrorism
Chief Supt. Michael Taylor, Counter Terrorism Command, Metropolitan Police Service

14.30 - 15.00 No Mean City No More – Tackling Violence in Scotland
Karyn McCluskey, Violence Reduction Unit, Strathclyde Police

15.00 - 15.30 TEA BREAK

15.30 - 16.00 Policing the Crowd
Dr Clifford Stott, International Centre for Investigative Psychology

16.00 - 16.30 Crime Analysis within the Serious Crime Analysis Section of the NPIA
Dr Nicky Miller, Serious Crime Analysis Section, National Policing Improvement Agency

16.30 - 17.00 The International Academy of Investigative Psychology
Professor David Canter & Dr Donna Youngs, ICIP